

PROGRAM WILL BE COMPLETED FOR S. A. W. JUBILEE

Veterans Will Celebrate Anniversary Of Departure For War

A tentative program for the celebration of the tenth anniversary of the departure of Company G for the Spanish-American war will be considered at a meeting of C. O. Post camp of Spanish-American war veterans at the armory Tuesday evening. A committee working on the celebration will make its report.

The program under consideration is a banquet at Odd Fellows hall Saturday evening, April 25, which will be followed by the presentation of a series of stereoscopic slides taken from photographs belonging to T. G. Skyles which show scenes of the company from the time it left Appleton until its return.

A picnic and dinner at Albion park the day following will probably be held in the event of favorable weather. At the time the company was called out it consisted of 106 enlisted men and three officers under command of Capt. H. E. Pomeroy. More than 250 Outagamie co men rendered service during the war.

From Appleton Company G went to Camp Harvey, Milwaukee, where it was mustered into the state service May 10 and a few days later it was ordered to Chickamauga, where it remained until early in July. From there it was ordered to Charleston, S. C., where it embarked for Porto Rico the latter part of July.

"Kikmi" Girls Not Bothered By Weatherman

MAYBE it's a good thing that all the girls in "Kikmi" are men in view of the weather man's forecast today. This kind of weather isn't the kind that most of the fair sex, especially of the theatrically inclined, dose on, and it is possible that fits of temperament might turn up the works for the play in Appleton theatre tonight. But The Haresfoot club women are all men and what a little hum weather to men?

The first sale for "Kikmi" indicates a capacity house. This is the first of the club to Appleton and the folks are eager to see what the state university produces in the way of theatricals.

The girls in "Kikmi" get a lot of fun out of their masquerade. There are a lot of fellows here who envy Hubert Townsend, one of the "girls" in the play, when he is getting "fixed up" for his part. The picture above shows Townsend getting a few pointers on the proper application of the lipstick, the eyebrow pencil and other beauty utensils from Miss Pauline Ambrose who was the queen of the last Junior Prom at the state school. Miss Ambrose is rip-roaring beauty and Miss—er—Mr. Townsend isn't making very strenuous objections to the ministrations of the young woman.

"Kikmi" is a musical extravaganza of the better sort. It is filled with good music and funny situations and it would get a laugh out of the Sphinx.

HOLSTEIN SALE IS POSTPONED 10 DAYS

The Holstein consignment sale which was to be held at 10:30 Wednesday at Outagamie Equity Cooperative Exchange, has been postponed until Friday, April 13. The storm of Tuesday made it impossible to travel conveniently in the country and it was believed by officials of Outagamie Holstein Breeders association that the attendance would be too small to make the sale worthwhile.

CHARTER OFFICERS CONDUCT MEETING

Knights Of Columbus Arrange Novel Program For Thursday Night

Original officers of Council 607, Knights of Columbus, who are active and living in Appleton, will have charge of the regular meeting of the knights in their hall Thursday evening. The first officers were elected in Dec. 1901 and were installed in January of 1902. The council was organized in Oct. of 1901.

Original officers of the council were J. V. Sherman, grand knight; J. I. Toner, deputy grand knight; Gustave Keller, chancellor; E. C. Otto, warden; P. H. Ryan, financial secretary; T. M. Lohmeyer, recording secretary; Charles Sacksteder, treasurer; E. W. Sacksteder, lecturer; Messrs. W. J. Fitzmaurice, chaplain; J. Harrington, advocate; George Schmidt, inside guard; D. J. Boyle, outside guard; G. T. Moes, J. M. Callahan and John Versteeg, trustees.

The program for Thursday night will include four brief addresses. Messrs. Fitzmaurice will discuss the fourth degree of the order. Dr. C. E. Ryan will give a review of all the grand knights of the local council; Attorney T. H. Ryan will discuss the third degree and Attorney P. J. Rooney will deliver a talk on the duties of charter members.

WANT $12,000 FOR GYMNASIUM FUND

Solicitors for the $50,000 fund for a Lawrence college gymnasium, which is the student contribution toward the $150,000 necessary for the new building, started out on Tuesday to raise the $12,000 which is lacking after the intensive campaign just before the spring recess. The campaign will close on Thursday evening. Every effort is being made by the students to get the fund for which they statted out.

FARMERS HAVE ROAD TO MEDINA OPENED

Former Senator H. M. Culbertson of Medina was in Appleton Monday and said he experienced no trouble in making the trip by automobile as the farmers had opened the main thoroughfares. Some of the side roads were still impassable, he said. While many of the fields are bare he was of the opinion that clover, rye and winter wheat had not been winter-killed.

Annual Meeting Will Be Held At Vocational School Auditorium

The annual meeting of the Appleton Chamber of Commerce will take place at 7:30 Monday evening, April 9, in the vocational school auditorium. Election of members for the board of directors will take place and amendments to the by-laws will be presented and voted upon. These amendments have been explained in a letter sent out to the membership. They have to do with the election of directors, the date of the annual meeting and the assignment of mutual responsibilities. Chairmen of committees will make reports at the meeting and the officers including the president, secretary and treasurer will also make reports. The work of the publicity, industrial relations, retail trade, community welfare and rural affairs committees will be outlined at that time.

ON THE SCREEN

"THE DANGEROUS AGE" GREAT SCREEN DRAMA

Excellent drama is "The Dangerous Age," the John M. Stahl-First National attraction which began a three day engagement at the Elite Theatre yesterday. It is a masterpiece of realistic portrayal of American family life and decidedly one of the "bigger and better" pictures toward which all producers are striving. The audience which attended the opening performance gave vent to its approval by applauding vigorously when the last scene had faded away. It was one of the best pictures that this town had seen in a long time. The picture contains so many features worthy of favorable comment that it is difficult to point out the best. Story, cast, direction, photography, settings—all are superb. Blended into "The Dangerous Age" they form an irresistible appeal. We have often read of "all star" casts, but we've never seen one which

H.S. Library Needs Books On State History

Appleton high school library has little material on Wisconsin history and little is available because books on Wisconsin history are out of print. If there are any people in Appleton who have copies of Wisconsin or Outagamie-co histories, which are not being used, the history department of the high school would be grateful if these could be placed in the school library. Many times people dismantle their libraries and discard many books which might be of value as reference material. Anyone who has historical documents concerning local or state history will find that the public and high school library will be glad to get them.

LIONS PREPARING FOR CONVENTION

About 80 per cent of the Lions attended the weekly luncheon in the Conway hotel Monday noon. It was the first meeting in the international attendance contest which continues until the latter part of May. Announcements concerning the state convention of Lions in Madison in May were made by Dr. J. A. Holmes, district governor. Practically every member of the club announced he would make an effort to attend the state meeting. Club members here began rehearsing songs and stunts they will offer at the Madison convocation. A brief address was made by Judge Edgar W. Werner, a guest of the club, came nearer caring that appellation than the one which enacts this picture. It consists of such remarkable actors and actresses as Lewis S. Stone, Cleo Madison, James Morrison, Helen Lynch, Edward Burns, Edith Roberts, Myrtle Stedman, Ruth Clifford, Richard Tucker, Lincoln Stedman and Delorice. Much credit is also due to Frances Irene Reels, the author, who has supplied a story eminently fitted for picture-making and containing many episodes of gripping power.

I SPIED TODAY

If someone offered you 70 cents to go to the nearest mailbox to mail a letter, it isn't likely you would refuse the chance and if the opportunity were offered every day you would think yourself quite fortunate. Well folks, the Post-Crescent is offering you just that chance. All that you have to do is to mail an interesting article that will pass the inspection of the I Spied Editor, and two tickets to the Elite Theatre, worth 70 cents of any man's money, will be waiting for you. You can send just as many articles as you want to and every good one will be printed. Be sure you are describing happenings that will interest a large number of people and also be sure of your facts. You must sign your name to the article as an evidence of good faith. Now let's get busy and swamp the I Spied Editor with letters.

HAD FIGHT WITH COAT
Monday while home on my Easter vacation I cleaned my coat and hung it outside. I was busy in the house but when I looked out the window I spied our dog had pulled the coat off the hanger and was tearing the fur collar to pieces. My Dad took a switch and switched him and when I looked around I saw my sister crying who felt more sorry for the dog than my torn collar. L. T.

BUT IMAGINE WHAT HE SAID
Easter morning about 9:30 "I Spied" a young man resplendent in a new Easter suit and overcoat, come walking jauntily out of a house on Atlantic. It didn't last, however, for as he reached the sidewalk he slipped and fell on the snow-covered ice. Imagine his feelings as he looked down and saw that he had torn the knee out of his trousers, and had to turn back. R. K.

AFTER SATURDAY NIGHT
Sunday morning on my way to Sunday School, I saw a man getting water in the City park. As he started home with the water, two dogs ran in front of him, and he fell, getting a cold shower bath. He got up, shook himself, refilled his pail and started for home once more. C. E. A.

WORTH A QUARTER TO THEM
My friend and I were hiking up river, today, and about ten feet from the edge of the ice, in the water we saw a piece of mechanism. We thought it was a still, and for more than one reason we set about pulling it on shore, with a long, forked stick. It wasn't a still, however, but a quarter slot machine that one sees at many resorts, about the countryside. The back and the front had

Evidently some thieves had broken into a resort on the river, and, after taking the money, threw the machine into the river. The robbery could not

Two Styles Now

Tell Him which style you prefer

Quaker Oats now comes in two styles—the Quick and the Regular.

Quick Quaker Oats—perfected by our experts—is the quickest cooking oats in the world. It cooks to perfection in from 3 to 5 minutes. It cooks as well as an hour would cook it. Experts certify to that.

So Quick Quaker is almost ready to eat. It is ready before the coffee.

Both flaked from queen grains Both have that extra flavor

Quaker Oats stands supreme among oat foods the world over. Millions of oat lovers send overseas to get it. Nowhere on earth do people find an oat dish that compares.

The reason lies in flavor. Quaker is flaked from queen grains only—just the rich, plump, flavory oats. A bushel of choice oats yields but ten pounds of these delicious flakes.

Quick Quaker is made from the same queen oats. But the grains are cut before flaking. They are rolled very thin and are partly cooked—roasted and steamed 90 minutes.

So the flakes are smaller and thinner—that is all. And those small thin flakes cook quickly.

The kind that children love

Quaker Oats is made to foster the love of oats. The oat is supreme food. As a food for growth and as vim-food nothing can take its place.

Oats yield 1810 calories of nutriment per pound, while round steak yields 890. Oats supply 16 needed elements in a balanced form. They are rich in minerals which growing children need. So the oat forms almost a complete food—nearly the ideal food.

Every mother wants to make this dish inviting, and we make these luscious flakes to aid her. Yet they cost no extra price. Quaker Oats, in either style, costs but one-half cent per dish.

We'll buy a package for you

We want you to try Quaker Oats this week in the style which you prefer. Any grocer will accept this coupon for a full-size package, and we will pay him for it.

Present it this week to your grocer. Tell him which style you want—the Quick or the Regular. Learn how much this extra flavor means to you and yours.

1,500 AMAZED AT SINGING OF FAMOUS CHOIR

Work Of St. Olaf Singers Unrivalled By Any Choral Concert Here

As a great musician plays an organ bringing forth wondrous music, a Prof. F. Melius Christiansen directs St. Olaf choir bringing forth the best music that is in each of the 65 college men and women who stand vested before him. St. Olaf choir gave a program at Lawrence Memorial chapel on Monday evening which stands absolutely unrivalled as a choral concert in Appleton, where special choral concerts are given many times a year.

When a musical organization is hailed in its press notice as the best choir in the world, the audience is always a bit impatient to see and above all to hear that choir. The chapel held more than 1,500 people on Monday evening who were given the treat of many musical seasons from the time that the voices began with Bach's "Be Not Afraid" until their finished with their director's setting of the "Fiftieth Psalm."

The entire program was of sacred music but so arranged as to give great variety of musical enjoyment. With the accompaniment of the organ, one could almost feel the audience wondering what the soloists' names were. Prof. Melius never allows the names of the soloists to be made public because he feels that personal ambition has no place in the great musical work of the organization. It is a bit difficult to speak of the songs, no soloist with a name, the quartet without telling who was in it, the tenor soloist without naming him, the deep basso without identifying him and the alto soloist without telling the secret of her name. It is not difficult to say, however, that they were all star performers and showed wonderful control of voice and sweetness of tone.

During the entire program every member of the organization kept his eyes riveted on the director and his every motion of the baton brought instantaneous response from the singers. As the beautiful intonation came from these earnest young students one wondered how Prof. Christiansen had been able to get such results. The secret of success is only work and hard work. He says that he does not believe in genius in choral work, that success comes only as the result of constant practice and much hard labor with phrase and tone.

The program was divided into three parts each containing a group of powerful chorals and hymns. It is hard to pick one selection from the program and say it was better than the others. Certainly the most tune full and the lightest number was "Earth, in Singing" a joyful German song by G. A. Schumann. Many of the selections were from the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries.

The Lutheran churches of Appleton are indeed to be congratulated on having brought so splendid an organization to Appleton to give its program. Many people are anxious that the choir be engaged for a return program next year so that the members of their families and their friends who did not hear the singing this year will be able to hear it at some future time. The choir is considering Appleton, Sheboygan, Manitowoc and Milwaukee in its 1924 itinerary.

St. Olaf college may well be proud of the students who have gone out to represent her. Everyone who met the students here was impressed with the splendid type of young people. Many people have remarked about the great intelligence which the work in the choir requires and of the evident hard practice which the young people have put in.

Their trips are not all labor, however, and the students have much fun. They travel in a private car, set out a newspaper of the events which take place on the journey and have regular "pep" meetings to prevent them from getting in low spirits. No school was ever more proud of its football heroes than St. Olaf college is of her musicians who have brought fame to the college as well as to Northfield, Minn. When the choir returned from its first trip, the people of the town and the students turned out to meet the returning singers and a procession about the streets was headed by a band.

Elect Griffin President Of H.S. Radioists

Walter Griffin was elected president of the radio club of Appleton High school and eight members of the club were given the rating of senior member at the last meeting of the club at the high school on Monday evening. Other officers include Robert Wolf as vice president and Lloyd Root as secretary-treasurer.

The senior members who received their rating as the result of an examination on radio theory are Lloyd Root, Ralph Busse, John Griffin, Charles Henderson, George Baldwin, Robert Wolf, Walter Griffin and Leland Hanselman. The club is divided into two classifications. The senior members perform experiments and construct radio apparatus, while the junior members study the theory of radio in classes every Monday evening. After completing the test which is used by the signal corps that is given an examination which rates them as seniors when they pass.

During the past year, the senior members of the club have set up a transmitting apparatus which will be in operation next week. They have also made a receiving set with a high power amplifier. There have been more than 35 members of the club this year. Miss Hattie Turner is in charge of the club as faculty advisor.

CLUB MEETINGS

At the meeting of the Badger club of the Employed Boys Brotherhood at the Y. M. C. A. Monday evening, Harold Finger reviewed a magazine article on ants after which there was a discussion on summer camps. Several trips to be made during the summer were also considered.

Signaling tests and first aid work will occupy the attention of members of troop 8, boy scouts, at their meeting at the Congregational church Tuesday evening. The Henderson memorial contest will not close until the next meeting, Tuesday, April 10.

The Tuesday club will be entertained Wednesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. E. W. King, 460 Eldorado St. Mrs. A. J. Maine will be hostess. The subject for the meeting will be electricity and will be discussed by Mrs. H. E. Griffin and Mrs. H. J. Seales.

The weekly rehearsal of Matinee Musicals will be held at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon at the vocational school. A quartet chosen from the members is also doing some special work.

Mrs. Otto Kuehnstedt will entertain members of the West End Reading club at her home, 586 Lavast Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. G. H. Peerenboom will have charge of the program.

The Womens Christian Temperance union will meet at 2:30 Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. Culbertson, 748 Franklin St. Business matters will be discussed.

WOMAN SO ILL COULD NOT WORK

Gained Strength, Weight, and Now Doing Own Work by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Marion, Ind.—"I was all run-down, nervous and over-tired. I could hardly drag around. I let alone do my work. I read some letters in the papers telling what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound had done for others and I thought I would try it. Then a mantel my husband about his wife and what good it had done her and wanted him to have me try it. I took one bottle and could see what it did for me in a week's time, and when I had taken three bottles I had gained both in strength and weight and was doing my own work. I took it before my last baby was born and it helped me so much. I sure am glad to recommend the Vegetable Compound to any woman who suffers from female ailments, for I know by experience what it can do. I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash, also the Liver Pills, too, and think them fine."—Mrs. WM. ELDRIDGE, 620 E. Grant Street, Marion, Indiana.

A record of nearly fifty years service should convince you of the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.

Spectators To Be Admitted At Junior Prom

Spectators will be welcomed at the Junior prom of Appleton High school in Armory G on April 11. Every year people come to the party just to look on and were admitted for a short time but this year regular spectators tickets may be secured. These are for places in the balcony and no one will be allowed to loiter in the entrances. It is expected that many of the parents of the high school children will be present in the balcony.

Two other classifications of guests have been arranged for. The high school students will be admitted under special rates and all others who present their invitations will be admitted as special guests. Invitations are being sent to alumni of the school and others whose names have been presented to a special invitation committee by the students. Tickets for the prom will be sold to the students at the session room periods on Wednesday and Thursday.

Lumberman's Aims Caused Bear Creek To Be Hewn From Woods

Campsite Of Winnebago Indians
In Early Years Now Is Central Village For Big Farm And
Dairying Region

(This is the first of a series of stories that will appear in the Post-Crescent giving the history of townships and villages of Outagamie-co., as prepared by Post-Crescent correspondents.)

Bear Creek—It was the favorable location as a logging center that caused the village of Bear Creek to be founded back in 1850 when Wisconsin was mostly virgin forest, with Indian tribes occupying the land at various points.

Its transition sounds like that of many pioneering stories, however, for it went through the stages of an Indian campsite, a logging area and a trading center. Now it is an important business point for a rich farming community.

Part of the Winnebago Indian tribe dwelt along the Embarras river in the early days. Some occupied rude huts and the remainder lived in the typical wigwam. They were entirely uncivilized, the men spending their time hunting and fishing and the women doing the manual labor. Some corn and tobacco were planted each year.

Their belief in the Great Spirit caused them to form some of the historic cemeteries where the Indians are buried with gun, food, blankets and trinkets for his journey to the Happy Hunting Ground.

HYDE WAS FOUNDER
In 1850 Welcome Hyde, who was engaged in the lumber business, began exploring the wild, unsurveyed timber lands along the Embarras river. He located a camp on the river for cutting of pine timber. A road was built with Bear Creek as the northern extremity.

Mr. Hyde made his home at Appleton and his residence was standing on College-ave until a few years ago, when it was torn down to make room for the office building just completed by the Aid Association for Lutherans.

This pioneer lumberman was born in the state of Vermont in 1824, coming of an ancestry in New England that dated back to 1645. He came west to achieve his lumbering ambitions and chose the Embarras river region as the most suitable.

When he first started his operations, it took a crew of himself and eight men five days to cut a road from his supply station to the mouth of the Embarras river. This was a distance of 29 miles. Hyde's team was the first to use it after construction.

The old Shawano Indian trail helped him lay out the road as far north as Bear Creek. The nearest neighbors to the home he established at the camp were eight miles away. He was in the midst of a dense forest with an abundance of white pine.

MADE SUCCESS
This struggle for a home and business success was one that taxed the courage of the pioneer but he became eminently successful. Soon others began locating in this same region. They came from the east bringing very few possessions and hardly enough means to build homes. These early residents now are the gray-haired men of the village. The earliest arrivals included the families of Murphy, McGinty, Moriarty, Jepson and Dempsey.

French families settled east of the village. Danes to the northeast and Irish at the west and south. Germans also established their homes to the west of Bear Creek.

When traveling through the country in those days, one came upon old shanties in the wilderness. Here and there a few cows or pigs might be seen, the scant livestock kept by the settlers.

POOR ROADS
There were very poor roads and no schoolhouses. Men put their might and main into clearing the farms that today have only enough woodland to make them scenic, and the remainder green each summer with valuable crops or pasture.

Wives also were hard workers, attending to the milking and to the feeding of livestock and helping their husbands roll logs, drive oxen, gather saw and make maple sugar.

The nearest trading center was New London. Most of the traveling had to be done on foot. People traveled to New London, Appleton and Green Bay to get groceries and carried them home on their backs.

The first school was located on Warren Jepson's farm and the first teacher was Miss Frances Ruddy. The school term was six months and she received a salary of $20 a month.

Civilization and conveniences began to be more in evidence in 1880, when the first railroad was built. Many men were given employment while the line was under construction. Shipping of goods became a very convenient process, and much lumber was moved to the commercial centers. Lumber yards were started and a depot was built. The names of Thiele, Schroeder, Schoepke, Mulvey and Clark are found among the families that arrived about this time to take up their residence.

BUILT CHURCH
Need of a church became evident when the number of settlers increased and a Catholic church therefore was built on the site of the James Flanagan farm, one mile west of Bear Creek.

The postoffice of the early days was located at Bear Creek Corners. It was moved to the village after the railroad was built. Then a decision was reached to build a new Catholic church at Bear Creek. It was erected in 1887 and a parochial school was built in 1890. The latter was a small frame building of two rooms. It had a large enrollment both from the village and the country. An addition was built later to take care of the growth and a few years later the building was destroyed completely by fire.

In 1898 the ruined structure was replaced by a commodious two-story school. There was a demand for a public school, and this was authorized and built by the village board in 1895. The land was purchased from Fred Reinke. The school grew gradually and now includes a full high school attendance.

A substantial building was erected east of the school to house a Methodist church. A bad fire broke out in 1902 destroying three-fourths of the village. All of this area since has been rebuilt.

CHANGED NAME
At this time the village was part of the town of Deer Creek but near the end of 1902 it was incorporated and a set of officers elected to manage its affairs. It bore the name of Welcome in memory of the first settler, Welcome Hyde. A few years later the village name was changed back to Bear Creek because of the confusion by calling the postoffice Welcome and the railroad station Bear Creek.

Bear Creek took an active part in the World war and "went over the top" four times during the Liberty loan drives. There were 52 stars in its service flag, two of gold for soldiers who died on the battlefields. An extensive celebration occurred in the village when the Armistice was signed.

The village has grown and its surroundings improved so that it ranks well with the smaller communities. It has a pickle factory and a sauerkraut preserving factory. As the center of a great dairying area, it has become the location of several creameries and cheese factories. A large quantity of logs is sawed here each year and shipped to other points.

Modern homes gradually are taking the place of the old type of farm residence, and the same is true of the dairy barns and other buildings, which now have most of the features of sanitation, convenience and saving of labor. This community has kept pace with others in use of the automobile and motor truck in place of horses.

TOURS THROUGH PLANTS ARE FUN FOR "Y" BOYS
The series of educational tours through industrial plants conducted by J. E. Dennison, boys' secretary of the Y. M. C. A., during Easter vacation week, drew an average daily attendance of 35. The tour to the railroad shops and municipal power plant at Kaukauna on Monday, March 26, was the banner trip in point of attendance, the party consisting of 44 hikers.

The Hustler club hiked to Lake Winnebago on a nature study trip Saturday, but due to the members having participated in nearly all the previous tours the attendance was not up to the average.

STATE PAYS BIG BOUNTIES YEARLY FOR FAKE WOLVES

Dogs, Raccoons And Wood
Chucks Among Animals
Passed As Wolves

By Associated Press
Madison—Fakers who counterfeited wolf scalps collected from $25,000 to $38,000 in bounties last year from northern counties, Secretary of State Fred Z. Zimmerman declared today.

Zimmerman said that the astounding increase of money paid out for wolf and fox bounties from $41,114 in 1921 to $80,972 in 1922, did not indicate that the state was about to be overrun by wolves.

"There is documentary evidence available to prove that wolf country has been claimed and paid on the scalps of dogs, foxes, raccoons, woodchucks, pocket gophers, squirrels and rabbits," he said.

The simplest and most common fraud consists in buying coyote skins from a furrier, softening them by soaking in water, smearing with fresh blood and presenting them to the proper official. Coyotes' scalps were presented as those of wolves in many cases.

Other cases consisted of wolves killed in other states and brought to Wisconsin to collect bounties, because of the large amount paid. The state law provides a bounty of $20 for wolves, $8 on a wolf pup, and $4 on a fox, but the counties can increase this as much as they want to, one-half of the bounties to be paid by the state and the other half by the counties.

Grant county pays $80 for a wolf scalp, Oneida and Rock counties, $50, Crawford, Forest, Iron, Langlade,

Their Kindness Was Tinctured With Expenses

A traveling salesman, in discussing the value of the German mark Saturday with one of his Appleton patrons said back in 1913 he was notified that an estate of more than $7,000 was left him by a relative in Germany. The settling of the estate was well under way when the war broke out. A few days ago he received notice that the estate had been settled and that payment in marks would be forwarded to which he was requested to sign. He figured up the value of the marks in United States currency and discovered they amounted to 40 cents. He had previously spent $28 in complying with instructions of court officials.

Outagamies, and Shawano counties, $40, and Marathon, Monroe, Price and Rush, $39 each.

Wisconsin has paid $52,802 in bounties for animals during the last 12 years, Zimmerman's records show. The total since 1868 is nearly $1,500,000.

C. OF C. FORUM TO BE ORGANIZED

New Committee Plan Will Be Carried Out To Revive
Interest

The organization of the chamber of commerce which had charge of the forum meetings had a meeting in the chamber of commerce on Monday morning at which C. E. Yount explained the new forum organization to them. This group of members will not be appointed until after the annual meeting, but it was explained to the former group because many of them will be reelected to serve in the same capacity.

A forum chairman will be elected as chairman of the forum steering committee. He will have three vice chairmen who will have charge of the attendance committee, the good fellowship committee and the entertainment committee. These three sub-chairmen will have three assistants and a committee of members. The organization will plan the entire forum program.

The attendance committee will have 25 members, the good fellowship committee will have 10 and the entertainment committee will have 5.

The forum meetings will be resumed immediately after the election of the new board. These meetings are considered of great importance by the American City Bureau and its secretary, Mr. Yount, is spending considerable time on the organization before he leaves.

BOXES OF GOLD

BY E. PHILLIPS OPPENHEIM

Copyright, 1922, by E. Phillips Oppenheim
Arrgt. NEA Service, Inc.

Vendetta begins between Michael Sayers, noted criminal, and SIR NORMAN GREYES, once of Scotland Yard, when Sayers' beautiful housemaid, JANET, saves him from Sir Norman by shooting dead the officer sent to arrest him. Janet becomes Sayers' wife and accomplice. While Sir Norman is living at his country house the police ask him to help capture a criminal whom they believe to be at the head of a dangerous gang. On his way to London, Greyes' car is stopped and he is shot through the shoulder. Greyes asks Janet to dine with him, Janet accepts. Acting upon Michael's command Janet puts poison in Sir Norman's coffee, but regrets her act and purposely upsets the cup. Sayers tells this episode:

I was at St. Pancras Station to meet Gorty and Metzger on their arrival in England. I saw the seven black boxes with brass clamps, handed out of the guard's van and placed on the roof of a taxicab. I knew as though it were foredoomed that the contents of those boxes would be mine before the week was out. I felt certain, too, that one at least of the two men would fight to death before I obtained possession of them. They were well worth it, however.

I walked back through the fog to my humble little flat in Adam Street. Those were gloomy days, even for me, who cared little about the physical comforts of life. I was passing as Mr. Arthur Younghusband, LL. D., a cousin of the well-known solicitor of Lincoln's Inn, in town to consult works of reference at the British Museum. Day by day I walked to that gloomy mausoleum of dead knowledge, spent an hour or so there, and back to my rooms. No one dogged my footsteps. By devious ways I had shaken off all pursuit and suspicion. Yet life was a wearisome thing. I am not a man with many human weaknesses, but I should have welcomed a visit from Janet—a little dinner, perhaps, at the Cafe Royal, a peep into the world of many-colored pleasure outside of which my path lay. These things, however, I knew were not for me. Janet was watched, as I knew beyond a doubt; even if she were not she had failed me in my last demand. Janet presented a problem to be solved.

On the third day after the arrival of Gorty and Metzger, I visited my solicitors, the firm of Younghusband, Nicholson and Younghusband, at Lincoln's Inn. My reputed cousin granted me an interview within a few minutes of my arrival. We spoke for a time of my studies and their progress. Then, after a pause, the door was closed; the walls of the room were thick.

"Things progress?" I demanded, leaning across his wide, untidy table. Mr. Younghusband smiled benevolently. In these moments of direct speech I was accustomed to forget my assumed personality and to speak with all the quick incisiveness that was natural to me. My legal adviser, however, never altered his manner of reply or deportment. He was always the same, unctuous, legal, courtly.

"Your affairs are in excellent train," he assured me. "Of the two people in whom we are interested, one leaves, as we have surmised, for Manchester tonight; the other remains alone."

"They have made no arrangement with any bank yet?" My companion shook his head. "They are both under the circumstances, suspicious," he said. "Their position, of course, is peculiar. They are custodians of a hundred thousand pounds in gold, with which they hope to establish a few private credit in this country. On the other hand, the country to which they belong owes us something like a hundred times that amount. They have a somewhat natural fear that any bank with whom they might deposit their treasure might be disposed to hand it over to the government, or that the government, by some legal means, might attach it."

"Precisely," he observed, "it remains in their rooms."

"And Gorty goes to Manchester tonight?"

"That is so," the lawyer murmured. "So far all seems well," I said. "The great thing is that the gold has not been removed and that Metzger will be alone. There were other little details."

"Just so," Mr. Younghusband assented, leaning back in his chair with his finger-tips pressed together. "So far as regards the setting of the affair, I think you will find it in order. Metzger and Gorty occupy Suite 33 at the Milton Hotel, which consists, as you know, of two bedrooms, a bathroom and a sitting-room. The sitting-room is on the extreme right-hand side of the suite, and the gold is kept in Metzger's bedroom, which opens from the sitting-room. The bathroom is between the two bedrooms."

"I have had the plan," I interrupted a little impatiently.

Mr. Younghusband declined to be hurried. He had the air of giving difficult legal advice on a technical point.

"Suite 30," he continued, "consists of a bedroom, a bathroom and sitting-room only, and is occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Jose de Miguel, very rich South Americans. They are leaving tonight by motorcar for Southampton to catch the steamer there for Buenos Aires in the morning."

"Their luggage is already packed?" I asked.

"Already packed," Mr. Younghusband agreed. "The porters have commented upon its weight."

"And Madam?"

"Appears to have fulfilled her task," was the somewhat hesitating answer.

I detected signs of uneasiness in my companion's speech, and I questioned him about it promptly. "Have you doubts of the woman?" I asked.

"None whatever," Mr. Younghusband assured me blandly. "At the same time, she is, without doubt, the weakest link in the chain. She has temperament enough."

Metzger seems to have been an easy victim, but I should have had more confidence in the lady who visited me the other day."

"I can no longer put complete faith in my wife," I replied coldly. Mr. Younghusband was startled out of his dignified serenity of manner. He leaned across the table.

"What do you mean by that?" he demanded harshly. "Do you know that she has been here, the one place in London you should have been careful to keep her away from, if you had any doubts?"

"I have no doubts whatever as to her fidelity," I declared. "You know what I mean when I say that, in the parlance of our friends, she has gone soft. It is a pity."

Mr. Younghusband seemed relieved but puzzled.

"A woman who could do what she did on the golf-links at Working," he murmured reminiscently, "must have changed very much if she merits your personal criticism."

The subject was by no means a pleasant one to me. I abandoned it. "In any case," I reminded him, "she is in touch with Greyes, and he knows too much."

"Wonderful capacity for existence, that man," Mr. Younghusband remarked suavely.

Harsh indeed I am not a lover of them. I seldom go out of my way to kill, or allow my subordinates to do so, if my ends can be obtained otherwise. At that moment, however, I felt a sudden resurgence into my brain of that one bloodthirsty desire of my life.

"As soon as this affair is safely concluded," I said, "and we are in funds once more, I shall take occasion to deal with Norman Greyes myself."

"It occurs to me that you would be well advised," my companion acquiesced. "The person in question possesses the one gift which might make him dangerous to us. He has imagination."

I nodded. I was tracing figures upon the blotting-paper, dealing with myself the different methods of dealing with Norman Greyes.

"Every channel which might lead to the firm of Younghusband, Nicholson and Younghusband," the lawyer continued meditatively, "seems, so far as human ingenuity could arrange it, permanently blocked, but a man with imagination who is not afraid to work on a guesswork is always to be feared."

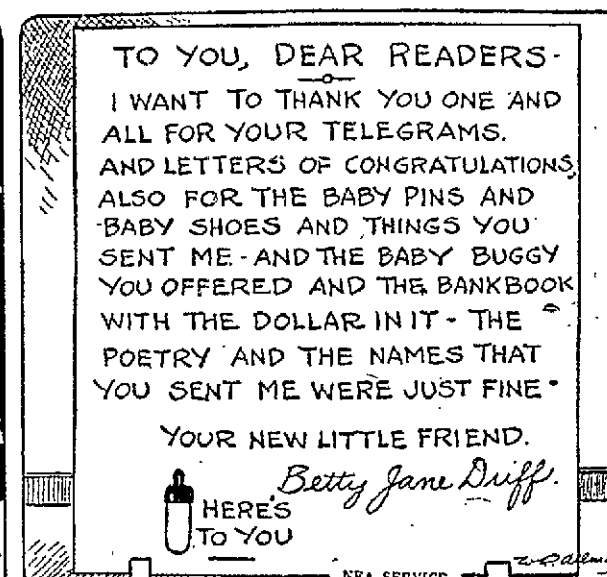

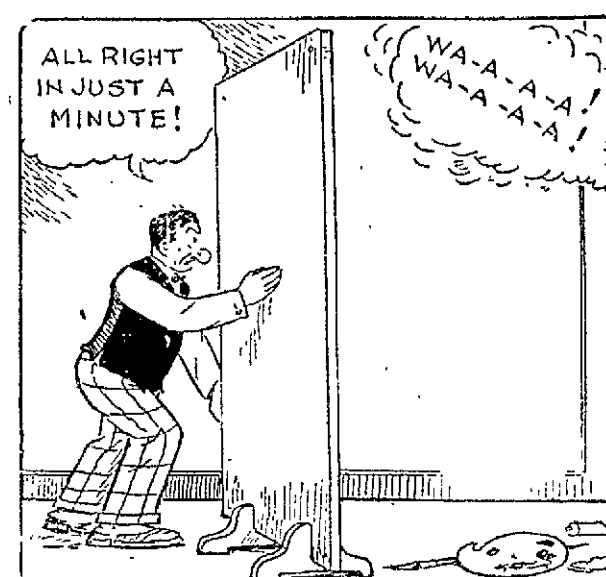

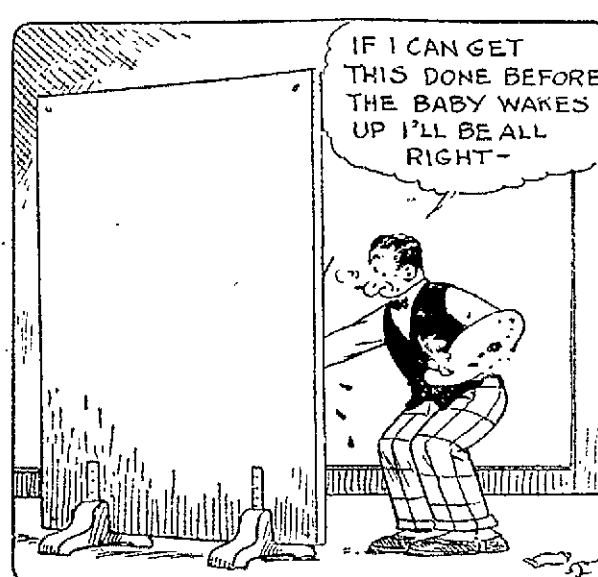

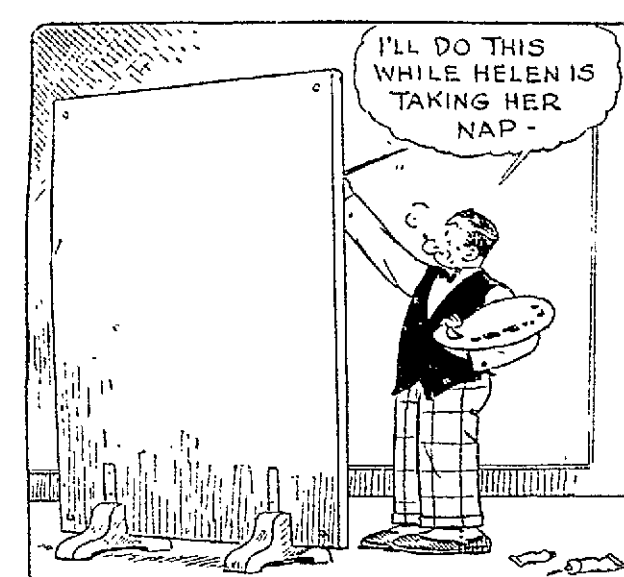

"It will not be my fault," I promised, as I took my leave, "if you have any cause to fear Norman Greyes after the next month of so."

That night, in the language of those forgotten war communiques, everything happened according to plan. At a quarter to nine Metzger who was writing alone in his sitting-room, heard a soft knocking at the door which communicated with the adjoining suite. He rose promptly, unlocked the outside door of his own rooms, and softly withdrew the bolt of the door to the next suite. He stood there with an inviting smile upon his ugly face. Madam de Miguel laid a cautioning finger upon her somewhat overpointed lip, as she stole over the threshold.

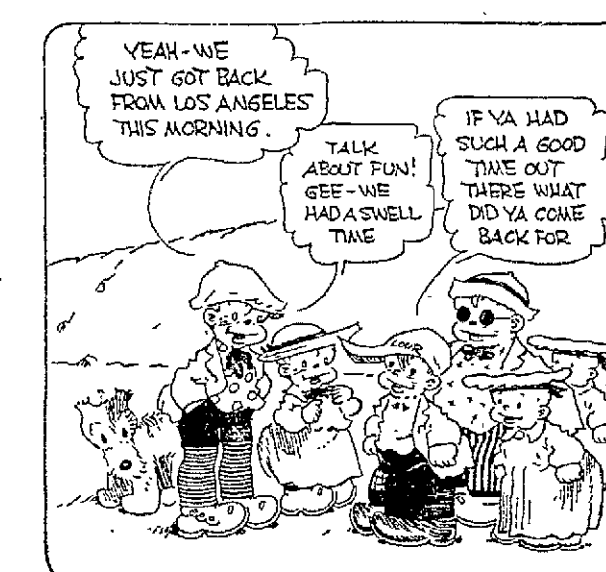

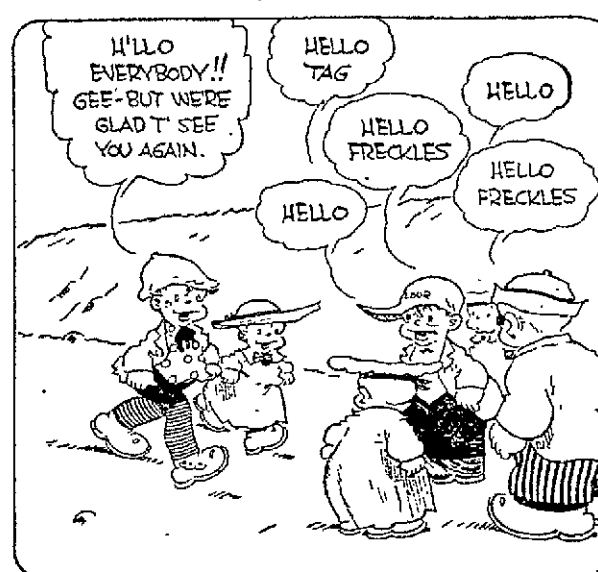

"There is one hour that my husband will be away," she whispered, gliding past him. "You may kiss me."

LAUNCH PLANS FOR 8-CLUB FACTORY BASEBALL LEAGUE

HORSE SHOE GAME AND TENNIS ALSO PLANNED BY MEN

Interfactory Sports For Summer Are Taken Up At Meeting—Elect Officers

Interfactory baseball which has played an important role among the some 14,000 workers in Appleton mills and vicinity for the last few years, will again be featured this coming summer.

Plans for launching the 1923 season of the Industrial Baseball league got under way Monday night at a meeting of the Industrial Athletic association in the Y. M. C. A., which met in conjunction with the "Y" athletic committee. The athletic association together with the "Y" has fostered factory baseball for three years.

Twelve industries with two representatives from each took up the 1923 athletic program. Not only was baseball taken up but direct action was taken to form a horse shoe pitching organization and a tennis league. A committee made up of C. H. Kelley, Thimpany Pulp and Paper Co. chairman; Clyde Smith, Kimberly-Clark and Bert Peterman, Interlake Pulp & Paper Co., was appointed by President George H. Packard, who together with other officers of the organization, were re-elected for the coming year. They were: Ewald Elias, secretary-treasurer; A. P. Jensen, chairman of the board of control; and W. A. Homes, Valley Iron Works, vice president.

The date for the opening of the baseball season was tentatively set as May 15, a week after the Wisconsin State Baseball league is scheduled to get started. It was decided to increase last year's six wheel organization to at least eight. Though rules concerning the game were discussed the matter was left for another meeting of the executive committee within a week or two. The delegates of the mills desiring to have a ball club were instructed to have their teams ready for action May 15.

Ball will be played every Saturday afternoon. The Combined Locks Paper Co. which operates the factory again will be in the organization with a strong team. Others which played ball last year were Kimberly-Clark Co., Interlake, Thimpany Pulp and Paper Co., Appleton Wire Works and Fox River Paper Co. Teams which may join the ball league are Appleton Coated Paper Co., Lakeview of Neenah and Thimpany of Kaukauna.

Other mills present Monday night but which will devote the summer to tennis or horse shoe pitching were Patten Paper Co., Kimberly-Clark Neenah, Appleton Superior Knitting Works, Appleton Woolen Mills, Appleton Machine Co., and Appleton Car Movers' Co.

The meeting was preceded with a supper at 6:30 in the cafeteria. Basketball and bowling were reviewed but naturally the coming sports got the major attention.

SPORT VIEWS AND NEWS

A movement has been started in several Wisconsin cities to induce "Abe" Laney to remain as secretary of the A. B. C. Enemies who are opposed to Laney's battle against gambling are forcing the veteran secretary to quit. Is the view of a Madison sports scribe.

While we're talking about the Capital city we have to hand it to the Madison baseball fans who at a meeting last Thursday subscribed $2,000 to get a good baseball team started in the burg.

Coach Denney and his athletes intend to rest for a week or so and as soon as the ground has thawed up a bit spring football practice will start. Denney will lose nearly everyone of last year's stars and he will have to develop an all around team if the Paper City will want to stay on the sports map.

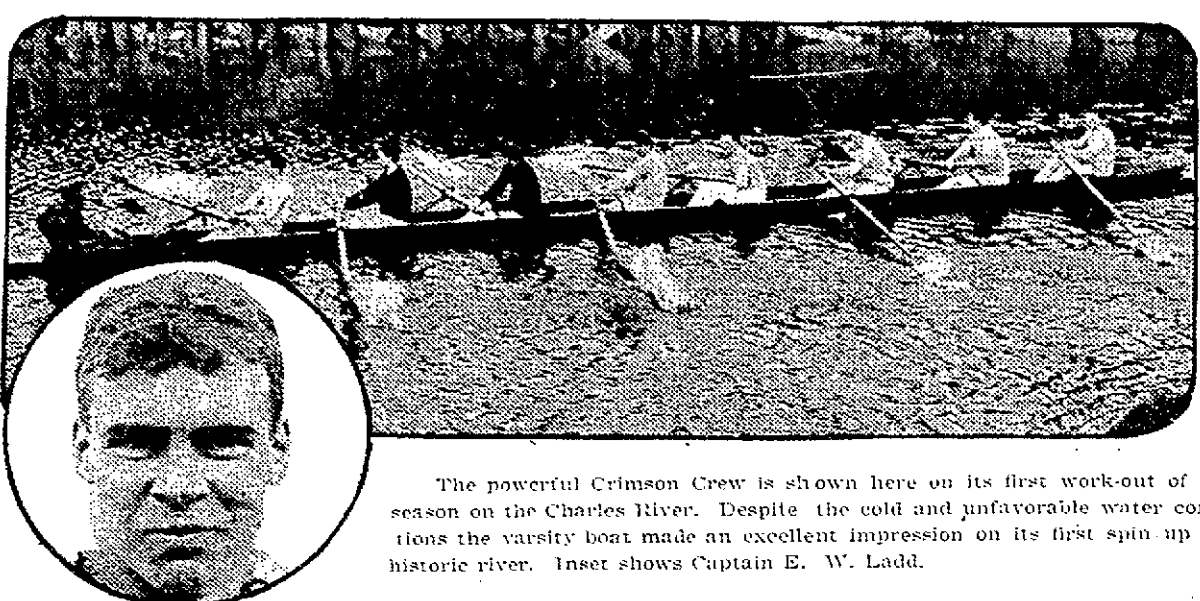

Though we tried to get some info as to what's happening to Mister Poon, of pitching fame, in the Brewer's camp, we don't know more than the fact that he is supposed to be there. Should the youngster fail to make the grade with the Brewers, Messrs. Brautigan and Sylvester will have a welcome sign tacked on the Appleton club mat.

Wisconsin High of Madison, winner of the state scholastic basketball tournament will not be represented in the national title affair which got under way today in the Windy City under the auspices of the University of Chicago. The Badger state champs absence has created considerable comment in Wisconsin caging circles as it was figured that the Madisonians would be starters in the national meet.

They have wished another honor on Rottie Williams at Madison. This time the pie-skin captain and star guard of the basketball team has been named captain of the baseball nine. Rottie has been represented the Cardinal on the diamond for two years and is considered one of the best outer gardeners in conference circles. The election was necessary as Capt. Elmer Ruediger was declared ineligible for participating in professional baseball.

The appeal of the Baseball Players association for representation on the so-called national commission will get a lot of consideration from the fans of the country even if the diamond experts turn a deaf ear to the plea. The players are just as much a part of the

Emke To Meet Wilson In Milwaukee If He Defeats Wolpin Here

Card With King Of Middleweights As Chief Attraction Is Being Arranged—Knockout Would Place Wolpin In Line.

Billie Wolpin and William Emke, principals of the boxing show to be held in the Armory Thursday, were scheduled to arrive in Appleton Thursday in compliance of the Wisconsin State Boxing commission rules. Emke was scheduled to get in the Paper City from St. Paul some time during the day while Wolpin was due to arrive in the evening. Emke left St. Paul Monday night, according to a wire received by Promoter Elmer Johnston from Mike Gibbons, Emke's manager. Both Wolpin and the Twin City boy were to stop off at Milwaukee for an examination by the state examiners.

WOLPIN CONFIDENT

Wolpin sent us the following on a card, which we got Tuesday morning: "I have been working out with Mickey Folsino and Harry Melchior, two good Chicago middleweights and several other good boys here and am in good shape. Will arrive in Appleton Tuesday night in compliance with the rules of the boxing commission and will work out there Wednesday and Thursday. I am in good shape and ought to beat Emke. It will be a good fight. Regards to all."

Milwaukee promoters will keep their eyes on Appleton Thursday for they have practically signed William Emke, the St. Paul scrapper to meet Johnny Wilson, king of middleweights. Emke will meet Wilson but will have to do one thing first and that is whip Wol-

pin. Should he fail, naturally his chances to get into action will be nil and it is possible that the job will be turned over to Wolpin, who is regarded quite highly in the estimation of promoters throughout the middle west.

KNOCKOUT IS EXPECTED

A knockout will virtually sew up a contract for a pile of jack that neither Wolpin or Emke can ever dream of making here.

Fans who have seen Wolpin and Emke fight are not expecting a highly polished battle but what they are all most sure of seeing will be slugging blows. The scrap is liable to terminate with the chances of both lads being good for a win.

Though Promoter Johnston hasn't donned any gloves in a ring battle for a good many years we will vouch that he wouldn't hesitate to get into action again if he could meet the famous Mr. Weatherman on equal terms. Johnston is gnashing his teeth these days as the snow is beginning to pile up again. Inclement weather has had much to do in keeping out of town bugs from the Paper City in his previous shows.

TICKETS ARE MOVING

However, the Appleton Tex Rickard has some consolation in the reports from his ticket agents. Already the cards are moving with a rapidity that indicates that the house will be bigger than it was at the other shows. Miller and Rule, the Sports Shop and Bell's Drug store are selling the tickets from a dollar to three. The ducks will be removed to the box of ice at 6 o'clock Thursday.

SWISS SCRAPPER TO SEEK LEONARD'S LIGHTWEIGHT TITLE

John Knusel, Making His Home In Milwaukee, Is Latest Aspirant

Milwaukee—Another foreign lightweight attracted by huge American purses and a hope to knock off Benny Leonard's crown, has just arrived in this country looking for matches with the best in the 135 pound division. The newcomer is John Knusel, champion of Switzerland, who has been brought to this country by his brother, a rich Milwaukee mason contractor. He has placed himself under the management of Vince Moha, brother of the famous Bob, and will shortly start a campaign which he hopes will get him in the big money class.

Knusel, who is a sculptor in brass of no mean ability, is also a licensed flyer and was in the Swiss aviation corps. It was while he was in service that he took up boxing and in a short time he had cleaned up all the soldier boy scrappers. He then invaded the professional ranks and in twenty bouts was never defeated though he met some of the best lightweights of France, Germany, and Switzerland. His last bout before coming to America was with Frank Haas, who held the Swiss lightweight title. The bout, scheduled to go twenty rounds ended in the twelfth when Haas was unable to continue because of the battering he had received.

Knusel possessed of a wonderful build with a remarkable pair of shoulders as fast as a cat after a mouse. He does not box as well as the American stars, but under the tutelage of Bob Boha is rapidly acquiring a ring polish he lacked when he arrived in Milwaukee. He has a great left hand and in gym workouts has knocked down many bigger men with the 16 ounce pillows used in training bouts.

The modern tank steamer varies in carrying capacity from 6,000 to 10,000 tons. One of the larger ones carries enough oil to fill 105,000 barrels of the customary 50-gallon size.

All But Battery Is Signed For Appleton Baseball Aggregation

Practice Will Start In Few Weeks—Major Leaguer May Hurl For Papermakers—Catcher Is Wanted

With the exception of a battery the Appleton baseball nine is complete and practically ready to start playing when the season begins May 6. Eleven names are on Manager George Brautigan's list, some of the men are "tryouts" and will be dropped off should they fail to make good when practice will start in several weeks.

NOT WORRIED

Brautigan isn't worried about a pitcher at all. Strings have been laid out for a number of good men, including several former major league hurlers. The big worry is a good catcher. Myrtle Lasing, football and basketball star, is the only local applicant for the back of the home plate. He will be given a tryout though it is likely that the battery will be made up from out of town men while the balance of the team will be made up of players from this vicinity.

Harry Sylvester who is directing affairs together with Brautigan declared that it is his aim to get nine Appleton men on each of the positions if that were possible. "It isn't that we haven't got the material here," said Sylvester, "but the fans, no matter how much they will boost local talent, often will not support a home town battery."

BOOSTS LAMERS

Sylvester declared that he was much in favor of using Marty Lamers, who was signed from Kaukauna on the mound. Lamers twirled under Sylvester when the latter was manager of the Kimberly team in the Fox River Valley in 1921 and Sylvester has a world of respect for the performance of Lamers.

HERE ARE APPLICANTS

Appleton's club lineup at the present time consists of the following:

Posing, catcher: Weigebach, first base: Marty Lamers, second base: Brautigan, third base: Boots Lamers, shortstop: Len Smith, outfield: Sylvester, outfield or first base: Beyer, Red Smith, Stoll, infield and outfield: Faulstrom, pitch or outfield and Durain, outfield.

A number of men who took part in the Outagamie-co league are being considered on the Appleton list.

Light a Harvester

If it suits you at all, it will suit you right down to the ground. It's a cigar you would learn to miss if you could not get it. It has character. It is a real cigar.

There is no other shade-wrapped cigar with so mild a taste and so satisfying a body. That's the cause of Harvester's popularity!

Men like to smoke it. They thoroughly enjoy its mildly rich all-Havana blend, which is toned to American taste by a wrapper of choicest Connecticut shade-grown leaf.

We may be doing you a greater service than you imagine when we urge you to "light a Harvester."

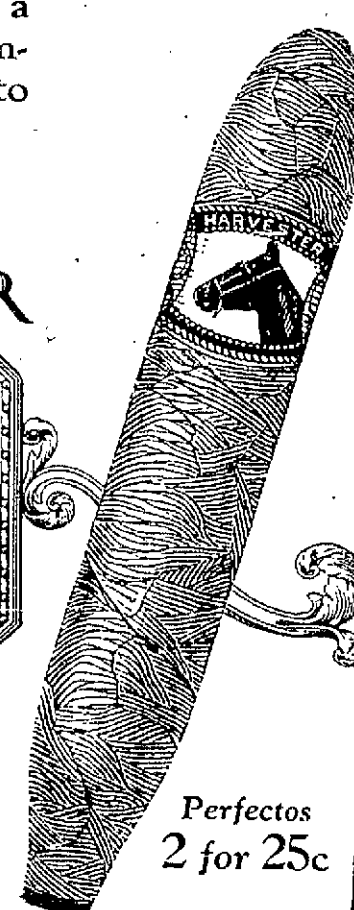

It's a cigar, sir.
